APRIL 2 SPEAKER

All of us quilters are artists; we just happen to express our artistic talents in different ways. This month's speaker, Susan Brubaker Knapp, will be here to bring out "The Artist In You". Susan's presentation will focus on ways for traditional quilters to become more creative by embracing their own "inner artist." It is her goal to inspire and encourage quilters to try making an art quilt for several reasons: to challenge themselves, to unleash their innate creativity, to learn new techniques, to discover things about themselves through art, and to share their view of the world with others.

Perhaps she will inspire you to take one of her workshops! There's still room and neither requires a lot of prep time.

Susan is a nationally known fiber artist, quilt pattern designer, and teacher whose work has won awards nationally and locally. Nearly all of her work is realistic in style, and starts with original photographs of the subjects. She uses two primary techniques – wholecloth painting, and fused appliqué – then heavily free-motion thread sketch the surface before quilting. <http://www.bluemoonriver.com/>

CVQG Meeting Minutes, March 5th, 2013

President Karey Young opened the meeting by welcoming one new member. Teela Dufresne reminded everyone that the forms for the Spring retreat at Camp Abnaki are on the guild website. As chair of volunteers for VQF, she asked members to consider volunteering at the show this year. She has forms or they can be accessed on the VQF website. Quilt Show chair Barbara Carter reported plans are underway for the guild show in October. More volunteers are needed and everyone is welcome to come to the next show committee meeting on March 19th at Yankee Pride. Collette Kaiser explained how the workshop to start the raffle quilt will work and invited people to sign up. Marty DelNevo explained the plans to do something different with the silent auction with a raffle of baskets and quilted items and asked members to be thinking of ways to help. Ruth Whitaker explained the challenge quilt guidelines and passed them out. She urged everyone to participate. Nominating Committee Chair Andre Emmell asked for members to consider taking a leadership position for next year.

Janet Brunet, co chair of programs introduced Judy Thomas and Kay Barret Vascik who showed many of their reproduction based quilts and provided many tips about quilting.

Community Quilts Chair Janet Jaffe asked the people who had finished jelly roll quilts at the workshop on Saturday to show their quilts. Carla White was the winner of the jelly roll race.

Pam Farnsworth presented the name tag raffle prize to Brooke Conger. Brooke also won the Quilts of Valor raffle presented by Ruth Whitaker.. Ruth announced the May raffle will be a fat quarter basket and asked members to bring in fat quarters to donate the next two meetings. The raffle blocks were won by Eileen Saxton. Alicia Marsh who won last month announced she had made two quilts from the blocks. Sue McGuire showed the group the blocks for the April raffle.

The meeting was adjourned on motion of Ruth Whitaker and Marty DelNevo.

Show and Tell followed.

March 2013 Survey Summary – Suggestions for Improving the Guild

Thank you for your many excellent suggestions in response to our recent questionnaire. Following is a short summary of the results; a more detailed analysis will be emailed or mailed to each member. Some suggestions can be implemented quite easily; others will require more discussions with the guild membership. We will be addressing these in the upcoming months and will give feedback as we go along. We encourage your participation. Following is a summary of the 45 replies:

How can we get more people involved in leadership/volunteering?

Education of what the jobs entail (This includes making job descriptions available and providing informal information about the experience of current leaders)

Break jobs down to smaller, more manageable units

Build personal relationships that foster leadership and involvement with the guild

Foster a positive environment

How can we get more people to enter quilts in the show?

Change the fee structure

Provide education about fees and judging

Encourage confidence

How can we make newcomers feel more welcome?

More opportunities for small group discussions – at meetings & outside meetings

Buddy system

Outreach by seasoned members

Does the guild do enough outreach?

What does this mean and how much should we be doing to fulfill our mission?

Lots of suggestions given. We need to prioritize.

Sound system – Do we still have a problem? Janet Brunet will address this at the April meeting.

COMMUNITY QUILT WORKSHOP & POT LUCK LUNCHEON

Saturday, April 20th 9AM – 2PMEssex Alliance Church, Fellowship Hall (Main Building)

Much of the effort in our last CQ Workshop of the 2012-2013 CVQG year will be devoted to quilting for the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Fletcher Allen Hospital in Burlington. Did you know that the nursery admits more than 700 critically ill newborns each year from around the region? Strong bonds form between the families of these infants and their caregivers in the unit. This small gift is given by the NICU staff to families, many of whom are totally unprepared for the crisis that the arrival of a sick, and often premature, infant creates. "Premie Quilts" as we have come to call them are simple to make, require absolutely no quilting, batting or binding and only the most basic of sewing skills. We provide the fabric. Just bring your sewing machine and a willingness to help out. CQ Workshops are a wonderful place to have fun while socializing with other guild members. Come for an hour or stay for the entire workshop. There is always ironing, hand work and cutting that needs doing as well. Oh, and did we mention the wonderful food?

LOOKING FOR WAYS TO GET INVOLVED? COMMUNITY QUILTS ❤️ VOLUNTEERS

CUT kits from fabric. Most will be simple shapes—strips, squares, rectangles, etc.

QUILT OR TIE small quilts destined to be donated to seniors, children and individuals in need

COME TO A WORKSHOP – Workshops are wonderful place to connect with other quilters, learn and share your skills and make a difference in our communities. All skill levels are always welcome.

SUGGEST AN ORGANIZATION that would benefit from a quilt donation.

COMMUNITY QUILTS WISH LIST

Rolls or packages of low-loft batting

A portable rolling clothes rack (sturdy but lightweight and collapsible)

100% cotton fabric in pieces larger than 4 yards

"Inspired by Color"Quilt Show Committee Update

Please consider joining the group that is planning our guild show for 2013.

The raffle quilt is coming together, thanks to Collette Kaiser and her team. We are looking at caterers and would welcome suggestions from you. Ideas are coming forth at each meeting about how we can add something new and do things better. We would love to have some more people join us. You don't have to worry about being stuck with a huge piece of the show. We just like to have some new faces and their ideas to work along with us. Watch the website for the next date.

Thank you to all of you who participated in the survey and answered the questions about the show. We will be discussing these issues and reporting back to you and answering questions in future newsletters.. There were some great suggestions that we will look at. In the meantime, be thinking about your challenge quilt, because as Ruth Whitaker said., "Almost anything goes this year." Happy Quilting!

Janet Brunet & Carla White (Programs co-chairs – programs@cvqgvt.org)

As we become more skilled with our digital cameras, more and more of us quilters are looking for ways to incorporate those beautiful photos into our quilts. Susan Brubaker Knapp has perfected several techniques for doing just that and she shares her expertise all over the country.

- quilting considerations

Tuesday May 7, 2013: Dianne S. Hire (Northport, Maine)

Dianne S. Hire is an award winning quilt maker, lecturer, instructor, and author who speaks the language of vibrant color as she uses fabric to create painterly collages. Dianne's lectures entertain and inform. Her love of teaching is reflected in workshops that students describe as uniquely fun and exciting; she encourages creative freedom bordering on fabric mayhem. You will find her quirky sense of humor refreshing and fun to be around.

SQUARE CURVES? What does that mean? Create easy, template-free, intuitively designed blocks of inset curves that become squares. Several optional designs using the same methods: broken circles, randomly curvy square as travelers, borders, double vertical curvies, or meandering, dancing curves. GETTING TO KNOW YOUR BOARD MEMBERS:PROGRAMS COCHAIR; JANET BRUNET

I started sewing clothing when I was a child so it was only natural that, when my friends had their first baby, I make a baby quilt. I had no idea what I was doing: ½ inch seams, seams pressed open.... The baby turned out to be twins, so I whipped up another and put my quilting aside for many years.

In the early 90's I was living in Santiago Chile and belonged to an Association of American Women that met monthly. At one meeting, one of our members was going to speak on the history of quilting. I thought, "How boring. How can anyone speak for an hour and a half on quilting?" That lecture turned out to be the best ever; I took lessons from the speaker and joined her small quilting group. Had I stayed home that night because I thought I wouldn't be interested, my life today would be so different. I would not have the opportunity to meet so many friendly, interesting, and talented people. Nor would I have the personal satisfaction gained from being actively involved with my quilt guilds.

When I returned to the US, I met three quilters who lived on my street in Summit, New Jersey! I joined their small group and the larger Garden State Quilters Guild. Heaven! When I first joined that guild I was one of those who just went to the meetings to listen to the speaker. Later I felt I should be more active and volunteered to do the newsletter. While doing the newsletter I worked closely with the Programs chair person. After some severe and persistent arm twisting, Debbie convinced me that I could do Programs! My fears? I'm not a very outgoing person – how can I talk with those famous quilting teachers? How can I talk in front of the group?... Debbie described the job as the best job in the guild – and it is! Those famous teachers are very easy and interesting to talk with! And there are a few worse things than speaking in front of a group!

My husband and I retired to Vermont about 6 years ago and I started attending the CVQG. For several months I attended meetings and sat by myself because I did not know a soul. I went from active participation to no participation – kind of like retirement! I attended a workshop and a community quilts workshop with the hopes of meeting people but it's not that easy; it takes time to develop relationships. When the need for a Programs co-chair was advertised in the newsletter I was thrilled that the guild accepted me so I could become involved again.

Being Programs co-chair takes a lot of work – but it's so rewarding. I meet lots of people and get a lot of job satisfaction from using skills I've developed in the workplace. Programs is a two person position; ideally one person will have some experience and the other will learn and later take the lead. Last year we started a subcommittee of members with various interests to help out with speaker selection. This has helped tremendously since one of our biggest challenges is to find speakers who will be of interest to a large number of members with varied interests.

If you would be interested in becoming Programs co-chair or would be interested in joining our speaker search committee, please contact me to find out more. Janet (programs@cvqgv.org)

2012 Challenge/Theme Quilt

Our 2013 Show theme is "Inspired by Color." What inspires you? Is it a pattern that says "try me" or a fabric that just inspires you to be creative, or perhaps it is something in nature? A sunset, fall foliage, a flower... The possibilities for this year's challenge are endless with only these rules:

1. Must be colorful.
2. Maximum size 144" around perimeter
3. A 3"x5" card attached to lower right corner that describes what inspired you to make this quilt.

Quilts will be displayed at the October Guild meeting where members will choose their favorite. Please plan to enter your quilt in the show, so that we may have a special display of "inspired, colorful quilts".

Brighten up these gloomy days. Start Now!!

MAY RAFFLE BLOCK SOMETHING FISHY

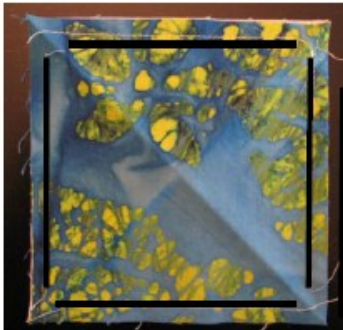

Block drawing will be at the May CVQG Meeting

This time we are making scrappy fish blocks. We hope you enjoy this unusual technique for the block sections. Instructions will make a total of 4 blocks.

Fabric – For each set of 4 blocks
 Any Light fabric 4 ½" square – Qty 3
 Any Dark fabric 4 ½" square – Qty 1
 And 5 ½" square – Qty 2

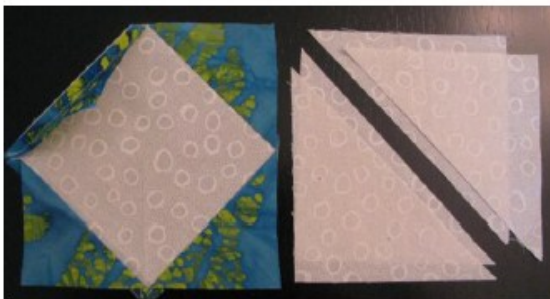

Sew – Place the 4 ½" Dark square on top of a Light square (right sides together). Stitch ¼" seam on ALL 4 sides, beginning and ending ½" from each corner.

Cut – Fold the stitched square in half diagonally both ways and press the folded line. Keeping dark fabric on top, slip scissors between top and bottom fabric and cut DARK FABRIC ONLY from corner to corner on both pressed lines. →

Press – Open to reveal a square in a square block. Press out toward dark fabric.

Cut – remaining 2 light squares in half diagonally.

Next – Pinch or clip center of long side of Light triangles. Sew long edge of a triangle to opposite sides of the block, matching centers. Press outward. Sew final 2 sides & press. Note the blunted points of the light center square (circled).

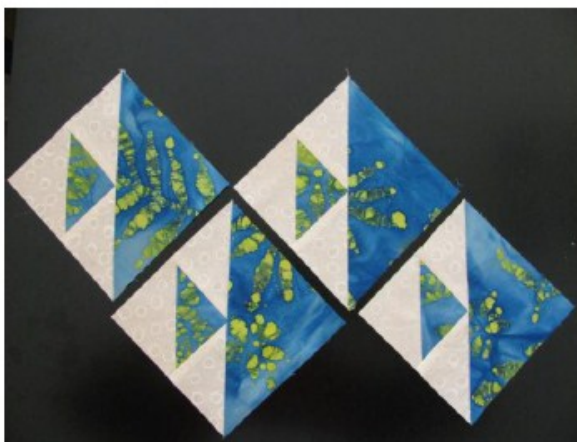

You may want to clip tails on sides. Cut resulting block diagonally in both directions as shown. →

Cut – larger Dark squares in half diagonally. Pinch or clip center of long sides.

Final Step – Sew the long side of a Dark triangle to each long side of the block, matching centers. Press toward dark triangle.

TA-DA! You now have 4 fish blocks, each 5" square.

As usual, the more you make, the more chances you have to win the entire batch – This time, we'll have you put your name in once for each set of 4 blocks. Have fun, good luck at the drawing.
